

Gratitude

The Elf Owl

Did you know this is the smallest owl in the world? They are smaller than a finch. They can't make their own nests, so they use the old nests of other birds in cactuses in desert areas. Now that's showing gratitude for what others do for us!

Can you find the two owls above that are exactly the same?